

Neighbourly Quick Start Guide

Everything you need to get started with confidence.

Neighbourly Ready

Use this guide alongside the in-app training. The app records your Quick Checks and final Ready Check; downloading or reading this guide does not replace those steps.

Real people. Real support.

Sisters Help Desk

Welcome to Neighbourly

Neighbourly helps customers and local service providers find each other. We provide profiles, service requests, reviews, verification tools, safety features, community events, updates, advertising tools and the Sisters Help Desk.

The service arrangement

Neighbourly helps you connect. You and your customer agree on the actual work, timing and price.

Your provider journey

- Create your provider account and Provider ID.
- Complete your provider application.
- Complete Neighbourly Ready and every Quick Check.
- Pass the final Neighbourly Ready Check.
- Sisters Help Desk reviews your application and required verification.
- Any category-specific checks or site visit are completed.
- Only then can the profile be approved and go live.

Your Provider ID is a short Neighbourly identifier you can use to log in. It is not a security code and should never replace your password.

What you can do on Neighbourly

Your Provider Profile

Show your services, experience, prices, service areas, availability, badges and reviews.

Service Requests

Accept, ask a question or decline. Read the whole request before deciding.

Extra Work

Customers request extra work in-app. Nothing changes until both sides agree.

Customers

Keep service history, favourites, private notes and your private work-again rating together.

Your Badges

See badges you genuinely earned or had verified. Badges are never for sale.

Safety

Use Service Codes, check-ins, safety timers, service-detail sharing and reporting tools.

More useful tools

Community events

Search upcoming local events by area, category and month. Past events disappear automatically.

Sisters Help Desk

Get human help with applications, verification, reports and using Neighbourly.

Reach more neighbours

Use Boosts and clearly marked promotions to improve visibility. Trust is earned; reach can be purchased.

Pause availability

Need time away? Pause new requests without losing your profile or service history.

Membership break

Take a short break from active membership while keeping your reviews, profile history and Provider ID.

Neighbourly updates

See important maintenance notes, service issues, changes and good news from Neighbourly.

1. The Neighbourly Way

Neighbourly is a kind community. Customers, providers and the Sisters Help Desk are expected to communicate respectfully. Complaints and disagreement are allowed. Abuse, threats, harassment, discrimination, intimidation, sexual misconduct, scams and deliberate exploitation are not.

- Firm is okay. Abusive is not.
- Consequences should be proportionate. Guidance and warnings come before removal in ordinary cases.
- Serious or repeated confirmed abuse can result in permanent removal.
- Permanent removal is the last normal step, and a removed person may not simply create another account.
- The Sisters Help Desk must also act fairly, protect privacy and explain significant decisions.

Remember

Be clear. Be fair. Be kind.

Complete the Quick Check for this section in the Neighbourly app.

2. How Neighbourly works

Neighbourly helps customers and providers meet. Before accepting work, make sure you understand what is needed, where, when and the expected price.

- Ask before accepting if something is unclear.
- The provider remains responsible for the service they agreed to perform.
- Neighbourly supports the platform process and can review reported platform issues.
- The Sisters Help Desk is available when you need help.

Remember

Neighbourly helps you connect. You and your customer agree on the work.

Complete the Quick Check for this section in the Neighbourly app.

3. Your profile and availability

Customers rely on your profile to understand what you do. Keep your service information, experience, prices, areas, availability and work photos accurate.

- Experience counts. Neighbourly recognises both practical experience and formal qualifications.
- Never claim a qualification or registration you do not have.
- Some categories need extra verification, documents or an appropriate site visit.
- Use Pause availability when you need time away.

Remember

Clear profile. Clear expectations.

Complete the Quick Check for this section in the Neighbourly app.

4. Requests and bookings

Read the service, area, date, time, notes and expected price before accepting. It is okay to decline work you cannot reasonably complete.

- A polite decline is better than accepting and not arriving.
- Extra Work starts on the customer side.
- The provider can accept, suggest changes or decline.
- If price or timing changes, the customer confirms before the extra work becomes part of the booking.

Remember

Read first. Ask if you are unsure. Accept carefully.

Complete the Quick Check for this section in the Neighbourly app.

5. Working with customers

Good service is built on clear communication, privacy and respectful behaviour.

- If you are running late or cannot make it, tell the customer as soon as reasonably possible.
- Never surprise a customer with an extra charge. Use the Extra Work flow.
- Use customer information only where reasonably needed for the service/account relationship.
- Private provider notes should be factual and service-related.

Remember

Be clear. Be kind. Keep people informed.

Complete the Quick Check for this section in the Neighbourly app.

6. Finishing the service

Close completed work properly in Neighbourly so both sides have accurate history. Customers may leave an honest review after a genuine completed service.

- You may politely ask for an honest review.
- Never buy, pressure or manipulate five-star ratings.
- Badges such as Highly Rated or Reliable Neighbour come from genuine platform activity.
- Trust is earned. Reach can be purchased.

Remember

Finish the job. Close it properly. Remember what helps next time.

Complete the Quick Check for this section in the Neighbourly app.

7. Problems, food and safety

If something goes wrong, small misunderstandings may be resolved calmly, but nobody has to continue engaging when they feel unsafe.

- Use Report a problem for serious or repeated issues and be truthful about what happened.
- Never share your password, banking PIN or OTP. Neighbourly and the Sisters Help Desk will never ask for them.
- Use the Service Code and booking details to confirm the correct service meeting.
- Neighbourly is not an emergency service. If someone is in immediate danger, get appropriate emergency help first.

Remember

If you are unsure or something feels wrong, get help.

Complete the Quick Check for this section in the Neighbourly app.

Food Provider Ready

Food providers receive an additional short section before the final Ready Check.

- Be honest about how food is prepared, stored and supplied.
- If you are unsure about an allergen or ingredient, do not guess. Verify before making a claim.
- Food is not returnable simply because someone changed their mind or dislikes the flavour.
- Genuine unsafe, incorrect or materially defective food concerns must be taken seriously and handled fairly.
- Sisters Help Desk may require documents, photos or an appropriate food-operation visit before approval.

Important

Passing training never bypasses food verification or any other required category check.

Safer services and fraud prevention

Neighbourly should know who is using the platform without unnecessarily exposing identity documents to other users.

- Customers and providers should be identity-verified before real-world service activity.
- Do not exchange full ID documents at the door. Use the profile, booking information and Service Code.
- Keep important arrangements in Neighbourly where practical.
- Use Check in, expected finish time, Check out safely and Share service details when useful.
- Never share passwords, PINs or OTPs.
- Suspicious patterns should be reviewed by the Sisters Help Desk rather than treating a shared address or device as automatic proof of wrongdoing.

Privacy first

The production app should use secure identity verification with minimal data retention. Raw ID copies should not be stored casually or indefinitely.

Badges, membership and advertising

Core principle

Trust is earned. Reach can be purchased.

Badges may include Skilled by Experience, Qualified & Verified, Registered Professional, Highly Rated, Reliable Neighbour, Quick to Reply, Customer Favourite, Repeat Choice and New to Neighbourly.

Membership is designed to add business value through service capacity, service areas, insights and advertising - not by charging providers for basic safety or support.

Current community launch working prices

Start	R49 / month	Up to 2 services; 2 areas; buy Boosts as needed
Grow	R99 / month	Up to 5 services; 5 areas; 2 Boosts monthly
Pro	R169 / month	Up to 10 services; 10 areas; 6 Boosts monthly

Paid placements are clearly marked Promoted. A provider may advertise an earned badge but cannot buy the badge itself.

Sisters Help Desk and community tools

The Sisters Help Desk is the human support identity behind Neighbourly.

Real people. Real support.

We understand the hustle, and we are here to help where we can.

Community Events

- Customers and providers can list genuine local events.
- Events are searchable by area, category and month.
- Past events are removed automatically.
- Misleading or inappropriate listings can be reported and moderated.

Neighbourly Updates

- Important maintenance notices.
- Known service problems or fixes.
- Changes people should know about.
- Good news worth sharing - without filling the app with noise.

Good things happen when neighbours show up for each other.

Your Neighbourly 5

1. Clear profile

Keep your service details, experience, prices, areas and availability accurate.

2. Accept carefully

Read the request, ask questions and only accept work you can reasonably do.

3. Communicate

Keep customers informed and use Extra Work for changes.

4. Be respectful

Kind, fair behaviour applies to customers, providers and the Sisters Help Desk.

5. Ask for help

Use Safety, Report a problem or Sisters Help Desk when something feels wrong.

Before you go live

- All Neighbourly Ready sections and Quick Checks completed.
- Any category-specific section completed.
- Final Ready Check passed.
- Identity and experience/qualification/registration checks complete.
- Any required category check or site visit complete.
- Sisters Help Desk final approval complete.

You are ready for the neighbourhood.
